

Lean Leadership and Coaching

Lean transformation is a difficult and complex journey, requiring more than just fundamental leadership skills. Maximum leadership effectiveness requires a deeper level of skills and capabilities.

Our leadership coaches help you leverage existing skills and build further skills where needed, using many tools that help develop lean leaders through application and reflection. Our Leadership Development Guide helps leverage current work for greater learning and improvement. Our Lean Leadership Framework will help you understand your role and assess your current skills.

Our Structured Coaching Conversations allow you to punch through crucial barriers with greater clarity and more effective action. And, our accelerated learning techniques will help you deepen your lean knowledge and become a better coach to your organization.

One thing is common among leaders – they recognize the need for self-improvement in conjunction with organizational improvement. Our experienced leadership coaches will help you accomplish both.
